Veterans Of War 2 Welcomed Home Friday

Given Banquet, Concert and Dance; Sponsored By Entertainment Committee of Coleman's Rehabilitation Committee.

A hearty welcome home was given twenty three veterans of the last war on Friday evening when the Entertainment Committee of Coleman's Reception and Rehabilitation Committee sponsored a banquet in their honor in the IOOF hall. S. C. Short was chairman.

The chairman, in his remarks, stated he was deeply grateful of the opportunity of welcoming back to Coleman the boys that had gone forth to fight freedom's battle. He regretted however the fact that only twenty-three vets. had been able to attend the banquet out of the fifty odd invitations sent out. He told them briefly of the accomplishments achieved by the Coleman Reception & Rehabilitation Committee in the interests of the returned veteran and hoped that all would soon be re-established in civilian life and lead happy and normal lives.

A. Balloch led in the toast to "The King."

Mayor Frank Abousafy in his welcome home address stated he was possessed with a feeling of pride for our boys who had "stood on Guard."

He had attended a Pee Wee hockey banquet the evening previously in which the hall had been filled with young athletes. The thought had struck him "would they measure up to the young man of today should the world of freedom ever again be threatened." However it was wrong to think in that manner. The peoples of the world must turn their thoughts into a channel of peace. We should prepare for war but must pray for peace and if sufficient people prayed hard enough and long enough for peace then there would be no fear of another war. He welcomed the veterans back to their Coleman homes and wished them happiness in the years to come.

Rev. W. E. Brown was introduced to the gathering. He was a comparatively newcomer to Coleman and possibly a stranger to a number of vets. Rev. Brown concurred in the Mayor's remarks and stated that all must work and pray in order to have a lasting peace.

Mr. J. J. McIntyre stated he was happy to have the boys back. War upset many things. Chiefly family life when tragedy occurred. Industry too had been badly upset. While minor to war, industry had big problems in replacing men and continuing to carry on in an increased tempo.

Bill Graham, Former Colemanite, Died At Coast

Word has reached Coleman of the death of William Graham, 72, at the Pacific coast a few days ago.

Deceased is very well known here among the old-timers. He came to the Pass from England at the start of the century settling with his parents and members of his family at Frank. Immediately prior to the Frank Slide in 1903 he returned to England for a visit and during his absence his father, step-mother and two brothers were buried under the Frank Slide.

He came back to the Pass and resided at Coleman, building the house in which Mrs. Nellie Graham now resides on Third street east.

He was one of the first miners to start opening up the seam at International mine. He became the first paid union secretary and was also secretary of the hospital and the Community hall, then known as the miners' hall. While in Coleman he rose in union ranks till he became vice-president of District 18, U.M.W.A. and then finally president of the district with his office in Fernie, B.C. In 1916 he lost the position returning to Coleman for a short period before setting forth for Arrow Lake, where he was post master. His wife died at Nakusp, in the Arrow Lakes district. On New Year's Day 1924, a daughter was drowned in the Kootenay Lakes along with several others. He came back to Coleman shortly after and worked a short time at McGillivray tippie, and resided with Mr. and Mrs. Jonty Atkinson. He returned to Arrow Lakes and remained there till January of this year when he went to the coast to visit a niece.

The body is being taken to Arrow Lakes where it will be buried alongside Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. I. A. James is a cousin.

Coleman Legion Club Entered on Monday Morning

Some time early Monday morning a thief entered the Canadian Legion club but failed to secure any money.

He made his entrance by a back window, using an iron bar to force the iron bars that blocked his entrance to the club by means of the rear window. Having bent the iron bars sufficiently to allow his body to pass through he smashed the top window and crawled into the refreshment parlor. He made his way into the secretary's office where he forced the lock of the cupboard.

There was no money in the cupboard. He then opened the various cupboard doors behind the bar where cigars and cigarettes are kept. Two cartons of cigarettes are missing. The robbery was discovered on Monday morning by Lal Snowdon who is being engaged to decorate the premises.

It is suspected that the man who entered the club on Monday morning is the same party who entered the club two years ago, escaping with a sum of money that had been kept in the secretary's cupboard and who took a keg of beer, the empty keg being found sometime later near Sartori's Lumber yard near Blairmore.

TRUCK STOLEN SUNDAY MORNING FOUND AT FRANK

John Salus had his half ton truck stolen at about 4 a.m. Sunday morning. The guilty parties have not yet been found.

The truck usually stands in front of his west Coleman home. Some neighbors noticed it being driven away in the early morning hours but thought that Mr. Salus was at the wheel.

On Sunday afternoon Henry Zak sr. happened to be driving through Frank when he saw the truck in the ditch. He contacted Mr. Salus who travelled to Frank for the machine. It was found to be undamaged.

Harry Meade Sells Bakery To Bob. Paton

Built Up Business Over Past 23 Years; New Owner Takes Over June 15; Meade To Reside On Ranch

Harry Meade, proprietor of Bellevue Bakery, has sold his business to Robert "Bob" Paton, of Saskatoon, and with Mrs. Meade plans on residing on his ranch north of Burnis. Twenty-three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Meade came to the Pass from Chinook, Alberta, in the Haman district, and purchased the bakery business from Wm. "Billy" Evans, now proprietor of the Blairmore Exchange.

He built up the business until he had a fleet of four trucks traveling daily from Burnis to Natal and employed a staff of 12. At one period he serviced stores at Waterton National Park with bread and pastries. "Meade's Bread" have become household words in Pass homes throughout the years. He has a section and three-quarters in ranch land north of Burnis and another three-quarters of a section of land north of Lundbreck. Harry, as he is familiarly known throughout the Pass, is a charter member of Bellevue Lions club and has been a Mason for the past twenty-five years. Mrs. Meade has also been active in community activity in Bellevue and is a member of various organizations.

They are widely travelled and have visited Australia, New Zealand, Honolulu, have been all over Europe, the United States, South America and the West Indies as well as the Dominion of Canada.

The new owner, Mr. Paton, is quite well known among the Pass businessmen. For 15 years he was manager of McGavin's Bakery at Lethbridge and during the past two years has been manager of the company's plant at Saskatoon. He has now gone into business for himself.

Carry Out Tests

Find Gens Often Get Thrive On Boiling Of Drugs

A danger area in which the new drug streptomycin increases rather than decreases deaths from infection was reported by United States Food and Drug Administration researchers. Penicillin, another war-born drug, may also have this effect, the report added on the basis of preliminary studies.

Carrying out tests on more than 2,000 mice, the scientists found the amount of streptomycin used determined whether the drug killed or cured. Disease-fighting concentrations are relatively close to those that stimulate disease.

So far, this theory has not been tried out on humans, but Dr. Henry Welch and his co-workers in the division of penicillin control and immunology, declare it is "entirely logical" that "improper dosage . . . may lead to undesirable results."

Results in the treatment of typhoid fever and undulant fever in men and women have been unexceptionally erratic; some patients are cured, others show no improvement even after large doses.

Dr. Welch suggests in the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association that under certain conditions streptomycin actually increases activity of the germ it is being used to fight. He could not explain this quirk of the drug.

Was Furious

Queen Victoria Was Violently Opposed To Women's Rights Movement

"Queen Victoria Was Furious" was the title given to a short series of feature broadcasts for London's overseas audience. The three programs were about three women who devoted their lives to the cause of women's emancipation, and who worked closely together.

The reason for the title is that women's emancipation had no fiercer opponent than Queen Victoria.

When the movement began to make some headway she declared she was "most anxious to enlist everyone who can speak or write to join in checking this mad, wicked folly of Woman's Rights, with all its attendant horrors, on which her poor, feeble sex is bent, forgetting every sense of womanly feeling and propriety. It is a subject which makes the Queen so furious that she cannot contain herself. Woman would become the most hateful, heartless, and disgusting of human beings were she allowed to unsex herself; and where would be the protection which man was intended to give the weaker sex?"—BBC Bulletin.

MEDICAL AID REACHES NORTHERN OUTPOST

The modern facilities of shortwave radio and a war-built airbase combined recently with the skill of an R.C.A.P. crew to bring modern medical aid to a remote northern outpost in a mercy flight, latest organized by the Indian health division of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

It all began when Constable George Mackay of the R.C.M.P. at Fort Chino, at the foot of Ungava Bay in northern Quebec, radioed that illness in the district required expert treatment.

With the co-operation of the R.C.A.F., a Dakota based at Dartmouth, N.S., was placed at the disposal of Dr. H. W. Lewis, medical director of the East and West Arctic area, who was accompanied by St. J. Bailey, regional director of family allowances for Yukon and the North West Territories, and G. H. Edgcombe of the public health engineering division.

Atmospheric disturbances cut the plane off from radio communication with its home base but the party landed safely after a 1,000-mile flight in an airbase still known by its wartime code name of Crystal One. Transportation to the Fort, eleven miles away, and living accommodations during the party's stay were provided by Martin Brewer, an American engineer in charge of the maintenance crew at Crystal One.

Approximately 40 persons had assembled for a medical examination, three of whom had to be brought out to the Halifax General Hospital for treatment. One, an Indian named Joe Poehne, was threatened with blindness. The other two cases are of a nature which the doctors believe will respond to treatment. The general health of the natives was good, and a good catch of fur assures them of economic security for another year.

In co-operation with Constable Mackay, Mr. Bailey studied ways of giving family allowance payments into the native economy so as to promote their customary ways of maintaining themselves and to aid them in bad years.

Mr. Edgcombe investigated the buildings and equipment available for possible extension of health services in the area—a problem complicated by a population so scattered that it works out to one Eskimo per 44 square miles. Including the American party at Crystal One, the total white population is less than 40.

When the party was ready to return, it was discovered that one engine of the Dakota had become defective—probably because of the temperature which had dropped to 38 degrees below zero accompanied by biting Arctic winds.

In the meantime, as radio communication had been impossible for nearly a week, a relief plane was dispatched from Dartmouth and touched down at Crystal One just as repairs to the disabled craft were completed.

The pilot for the party on both the trip going north and coming out was Wing Commander W. J. Michalski, officer commanding No. 161 Squadron of the R.C.A.F.

Ancient Ruins

Many Interesting Discoveries Have Been Made In France

Since 1939, French soil has been so dug up that it would have been surprising if nothing had been uncovered in this old earth.

Thus it was in Lot-et-Garonne and in Var some members of the maquis, surrounded by the enemy and in search of a refuge, suddenly emerged, guns in hand, into prehistoric times, in grottoes with walls painted three thousand years ago with hunting scenes drawn in the stone by the point of a flint.

It was at Valenciennes that the crowd, dashing for shelter, passed in front of the familiar church built in neo-Gothic style, and after the bombardment was over found among the ruins of the gutted church some old tombs. And then when the excavation began, glossy and historic pottery of the 13th and 15th centuries, belonging to old Roman churches was discovered.

In Aix-en-Provence it was not necessary to dig very deep. In 1939, when they were digging the first defence trenches in the Grass gardens, they discovered not very far from the surface some very promising ruins: mosaics with a white background, green opifite, that marbled used in the luxurious baths of the Roman consuls. Ionic capitals, fluted columns, tiles of meukings; in short, all the remains of what was once a very rich Greek villa and its annexes.

In a suburb north of Aix on the hillside where the Ozanne pavilion is situated, the Germans dug up an underground to build an anti-aircraft station.

The sight chosen for this post was later discovered to be a real mine. There they discovered an ancient Roman town and of Colic-Ligurian village lying just under the surface. They excavated two hours of warfare with head-plots, the curious head of a woman with prominent cheekbones, and a stone lintel on which a couple were sculptured. The Roman legends must have pillaged and ruined the buildings, because the pieces of sculpture were scattered.

Freemen Of London

Revised Book Of Rules, Which Is Masterpiece Of Dexterity

On his admission to the freedom of the City of London every freeman is presented with a little red book entitled, "Rules for the Conduct of Life". There are 36 rules in this little treatise and they are a compendium of shrewd worldly wisdom based in experience and the pity and fear of the Lord that were characteristic of our forefathers. No game appears as the author of the book and it has neither introduction nor dedication. It is a masterpiece of brevity.

Making Sound Films

The Sound Is Produced From Light Waves On The Film

What makes the sounds you hear in a movie—the music, dialogue, cars honking, factory whistles, and all sorts of miscellaneous noises? A trip to the Sound Department of the National Film Board clarified this process for us. Incidentally, we are told the same process is used in almost every film studio.

First, there is recording the music, which has usually been composed by one of the Board's musicians. The orchestra assembles in front of electric microphones, the conductor facing a screen on which the film is projected. He must watch the film carefully to make sure that music and action are timed exactly. The microphones convert the music into electrical energy, which is transmitted to the recording camera. Here the electrical waves are changed into light waves, and photographed on a spool of film. This spool, known as the sound track negative, is developed and printed just like a snapshot taken with an ordinary camera.

The dialogue, or anything spoken by a commentator, is recorded in the same way—but on a separate sound track negative. Then, of course, there are special sound effects. In the sound library at the National Film Board there are a great many sound effects recorded and ready for use at any time—everything from a bird's song. One film may call for sounds of a crowd cheering, and later on for an explosion. Each different sound is recorded on a separate sound track.

All these different sound tracks, timed exactly to the action of the film, are sent through special sound equipment together. A single sound track emerges—a combination of all the sounds in the right proportions. This final sound track is printed beside the pictures of the film. When run through projectors in the theatres the process which recorded the original sound as light waves is reversed, and from the light waves on the film we get sound.

Origin Of Word

Synonym For Gossip Goes Back To Old Sailing Ships

"Ships" tell that somewhere between the foremast and the main on the old sailing ships stood an oak barrel. It was Jack Tar's most precious commodity—fresh water. As a respite from scrubbing, or after a tough hauling on the braces, the seeling man headed for the water butt and his copious sputter, or dipper. Other mariners usually were there, and the pause that came with the drink made an ideal time to swap news and views. So the word gossip came to be known as "scuttlebutt". Gone now is the cask and the armed sailor who stood beside it to see that none of the water was wasted. But the word, as a synonym for gossip or rumor, lives.

REMARKABLE SHEARS

Collier's Magazine says cutting off trees at their base with a new type of giant tree shears is nearly as easy as cutting the stem of a rose with a pair of scissors. Mounted on a special tractor and exerting a pressure up to 60 tons the blades of this instrument can cut down a tree 2½ feet in diameter in 10 seconds.

New Constitution

Malcolm MacDonald Installed As Governor Of Malayan Union And Singapore

Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, former British High Commissioner to Canada, was installed as Governor-General of the Malayan Union and Singapore.

The ceremony took place in the same municipal council chamber where Japanese representatives signed surrender terms eight months ago.

The Malay Sultans were not present at the installation ceremony, nor did they send representatives.

Mr. MacDonald is the first Governor-General of the Malayan Union and Singapore. A British White Paper Jan. 22 outlined a new constitution which provides for regrouping of the Malay states and the Straits Settlement into two administrations—a Malayan union and Singapore.

The new constitution has aroused some opposition based broadly on the belief that the Sultans, whose status it is proposed to put into a new relation with Britain, were "hustled" into agreement with the Government.

BIRDS FLEW THE MAIL

VERY DEAR

THE girl, sitting in the cocktail lounge, was conscious of someone leaning over her table. She stopped searching for matches in her pocketbook and looked up.

He stood there tall and straight wearing a first lieutenant's uniform. His face was grave but pleasant. He said, "Everybody in this place is talking to someone. May I talk to you?"

She didn't answer immediately. Her eyes closed to narrow slits. A flush crept over her face. Nervously, she brushed her hair back from her forehead when she finally said, "I guess so," he already was seated. He suggested another drink. She nodded assent. He said, "My name is Peter and I am going to kidnap you."

At that she laughed. "My name is Julie and I'm making a train in exactly half an hour."

"Hm, Julie! I am going like that name. You are always like that."

"No, I live here."

"But your accent is southern."

"My parents live in the south. That is where I'm going."

"That is where you were going," he said with a grin. "Remember, I'm going to kidnap you."

She glanced at the clock, raised her glass in a silent toast. "I must hurry."

"Oh no, Julie. You have some questions to answer," said Peter Granville. "Are you married to a northern?" she nodded negatively.

"Engaged?"

"No."

"Good, you are practically kidnapped," said Peter with enthusiasm. Intercepting her second glance at the clock, he asked, "You wouldn't run away from a soldier whose leave ends at midnight tomorrow, would you?"

She abruptly set down her glass and looked at his five battle stars and purple heart medal. "No," she said in a low voice, "I wouldn't run away. Where do you want to go from here, lieutenant?"

He reminded her that his name was Peter. And he mentioned a spot on the east side which used to serve the best steaks in the world and was frequented by "newspaper people."

"That is the place for us," she said. "If I want you?"

Walking from the lounge, he put his arm through hers and held her hand.

"Peter," she asked suddenly, "are you married?"

"No, though I was once. But she couldn't bear me."

She pressed his hand. "She must have been crazy."

"No," Peter disagreed, "she was very sweet fundamentally. A little too young and perhaps a little spoiled. Also, it was eight years younger than I am now and a newspaper reporter slightly on the screwy side. I blamed her terribly at first. But, later on, I learned better. She didn't know the score and I didn't make much of an effort to straighten her out. She hadn't been around much and she believed we were all squirrels."

"I see," she murmured. They got into a cab. "You make a great many excuses for her."

He gave her a level look. "She was very dear to me. How dear I didn't realize at the time."

Changing the subject, he asked why she had come to New York.

"There were many reasons," she said softly, "but mainly I wanted to change myself."

"Change yourself?"

"Yes," she continued gravely. "Once a man I was very fond of accused me of being a self-centered little snob who didn't do much more than show horses, dance, and get into tantrums." She laughed self-consciously. "Eventually, I understood he was right so I tried to do something about it."

"And did you succeed, Julie?"

"I believe so. At any rate, I have made friends in and out of the store where I have been working. And, so far, I haven't been fired for getting into tantrums."

"We're here, bud" the cabbie interrupted.

"Julie," he said then stopped, after he paid off the car.

"Julie," he repeated, removing his overseas cap, "steak suddenly doesn't appeal to me. It now is almost midnight and I only have until this time tomorrow. Will you think I am an awful wolf if I ask you to come with me to the borrowed apartment I am staying in and answer some of the hundreds of questions I want to ask you?"

"No Peter," she answered, without hesitation. "I won't think of you as a wolf."

"Good girl," he declared, jauntily restoring his cap and waving for a cab. She watched him and smiled. They rode in silence to the apartment but once inside Granville he held her close.

"You know Julie," he said, "you are making my last hours here perfect."

"Sit down, Peter," she said drawing him toward theavenport. "You told me about your ex-wife. Now I'd like to tell you about my ex-husband."

"She gazed straight ahead and spoke in quiet, unemotional voice. "Finally I realized my own faults, too. I was selfish and possessive. I resented his pals; they seemed to have more in common with him than I did, and though he was very dear to me, we crashed."

"But," she turned to the silent man, "even now, four years later, I still remember the way he coked his hat, the way he suddenly burst into songs—even the way he always left the top off the toothpaste when he failed to annoy me. And I insisted on calling him by his first name, Cornelius, which he detested. I thought it dignified." She smiled wistfully, reaching for a cigarette.

"Silly, wasn't it? We really did have our moments, like wonderful days by the sea."

Taking the cigarette from her fingers, he pulled her into his arms and kissed her.

"Young and inexperienced, Julie, I would say." He put his hand under her chin. You are very dear to me, Julie, and I want you very much. Am I going to have you?"

"Oh, Pete," she answered. "I'm all yours. Furthermore, I promise not to get annoyed if you leave the top off the toothpaste." She moved closer. "Whatever made me like the name Cornelius?"

He held out his dog tag for her to read: Cornelius Peter Granville. "It looks, darling," he laughed, "that when the marriage bureau opens tomorrow you'll get that dignified name again."

"Oh, no," she exclaimed. "I've really changed, darling, and this time we are not going to crash. I'll just be the wife of Pete Granville, newspaper reporter, now on leave to the Army."

World Famine

Scientists Say That Mice, Bugs And Other Pests Destroy Huge Quantities Of Grain

World famine? Scientists say there is more than enough grain in the world to feed all hungry people—except for mice, bugs and other pests.

The scientists reported to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization that rodents, insects, mice and fungi moulds destroy, after harvest, one-tenth of the 725,000,000 tons of cereals, peas, beans and oil seeds produced each year.

Thus this year's estimated loss of 72,500,000 tons is more than seven times the 10,000,000 tons of wheat the world will be short this year.

Rodents alone will eat 25,000,000 tons and insects will destroy 35,250,000 tons, the scientists said.

When Marjorie Sharp Intends To Be An Architect

When Marjorie Sharp wants to take a course in architectural drafting when she gets her discharge but Navy officials in Regina were a little doubtful about the idea at first.

They thought stenography or hair-dressing would be a more suitable profession for a woman than architectural drafting. Besides they had never heard of a female architect.

"Wasn't that more of a man's profession," they suggested. They hadn't heard of Barbara Humphrys, VLA architect at head office, and other top-notch women architects.

When Sharp said she didn't think so and suggested that they call Miss Blanche Lemco at the city planning office. "She might know about that," said Wren Sharp. "She's a female architect."

Miss Lemco was contacted by the Navy men and she convinced them, although it was supposed to be a man's world, female architects were not as unusual as the Navy might suppose.

Wren Sharp will get her course in architectural drafting and she may be able to take it in Regina. A course in this subject is opening at the Canadian Vocational School there.

Why does she want to take up architectural drafting for a career?

"I don't like typing or bookkeeping or anything of that sort," Wren Sharp explained. "But I do like drawing."

Mathematics and drawing were her strong subjects when she attended Scott Collegiate. The family at 2920 Regina avenue, including one brother and five sisters, consider Wren Sharp's choice of a career unorthodox, but they're getting used to the idea.

A NATURAL TRAP

There is an altarpiece trap of natural formation in Australia. The birds pick between the walls of a steep-sided valley and, because of the lack of wind, lose altitude so rapidly that they crash against a cliff at the end of the enclosure.

The burrowing owl is the only land bird which nests underground.

UNDEFENDED BORDER

Length Of Canadian-American Line Is Really 5,655 Miles

OTTAWA.—That undefended Canadian-American border, long the toast and the salvation of after-dinner speakers, is 5,655—not the customary incorrect 3,900—miles long. Health Minister Claxton insisted here.

"And," he added in an address before a joint meeting of the Kiwanis Clubs of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Ottawa, "every inch of it is undefended."

"In Rock Island, Vermont, while sitting in the barber's chair you can get your hair cut in Canada and your shoes shined in the United States. Not far from there, if you are driving along the highway from east to west you are in Canada, but from west to east you are in the United States."

"During a by-election in Quebec two election workers were moving from town to town forcefully canvassing votes for the man they supported. Down somewhere about the border they met a farmer who didn't respond much to their pressure. At last they gave him the punch-line: Remember," they said, on Monday your man Davidson. "Well," he replied, "I don't know about Davidson. May seem strange for a man from Vermont, but my man's Roosevelt."

"The Tax Assessors Office had to decide on which side of the United States-Canada border an old lady's newly purchased farm lay. Surveyors finally decided it was just inside the United States border."

"The old lady smiled in relief. 'I'm so glad to know that,' she said. 'I've heard that winters in Canada are terribly severe.'"

For Extra Help

Farmers Who Serve Twelve Meals Can Obtain Ration Books

Farmers who find it necessary to serve twelve meals or more to their temporary hired help may apply to the wartime prices and trade board for what are called transient labor rations.

Where the person hired by the farmer for extra work stays longer than two weeks, the farmer is authorized to make use of his employee's ration book. In this way the employee is considered a member of the household, and the farmer may use his meat, sugar-preserves and butter coupons as they become valid.

German Bombs

Nearly Ten Tons Lie Beneath The Rubble Of Greater London

Nearly 10 tons of high explosive in 21 unexploded German bombs still lie beneath the rubble of Greater London's bomb-razed sites. Capt. G. A. Frake of the Royal Engineers' No. 2 Bomb Disposal Company—famed for detonating Stan, a 1,000-pounder at Croydon several months ago—said that seven of the bombs are being dealt with while two discovered recently had been abandoned because they were not a public danger.

New Industry

Alberta To Launch $100 Million Industry In Wood Products

A large new industry for Alberta involving timber purchases of about $100,000,000 and manufacture of wood products to be distributed on a continent-wide basis, is likely to be launched soon, the Edmonton Bulletin said it was learned.

Informed sources said the Dominion and provincial governments and large Canadian financial interests were behind the project which will involve purchase of timber over a wide area of the north country from High Prairie, Alta., to Dawson Creek, B.C., and north to the town of Peace River.

It was indicated plans for erection of a huge plant for preliminary processing and prefabrication which was likely to be built in the Peace River area at a point where adequate rail facilities would be available.

This source said it was understood the wood products to be manufactured would be made by a new process developed as a result of recent scientific research. Articles such as household furniture and prefabricated buildings would be turned out.

The project in its entirety would employ thousands of persons.

This Atomic Age

It Is Improbable That Man Could Destroy The World

"Although man thinks he has altered the earth considerably, is inclined to believe he owns it and, in this atomic age, may even boast he can destroy it, his million years of recent past is but a flash in the pan to what preceded him, said Dr. E. S. Moore in his presidential address to the Royal Society of Canada, meeting in Toronto.

Dr. Moore spoke of rock formations found in Eastern Ontario and Southern Quebec indicating life of some kind, probably plant life, existed approximately 1,800,000,000 years ago.

As to the possibility of man destroying the planet, Dr. Moore said geologists and physicists agree it is "most improbable" that one terrible atomic blast could blow up the earth. There is so little fusible material, such as uranium and thorium, scattered through the mass of inert material that makes up the earth that any explosion would not be propagated, resulting in a purely local effect, he explained.

EGGS A LA MODE

Translate that little phrase "a la mode" literally, and it means "in fashion". Right now, eggs—almost any way you like them—are "a la mode", and there's an abundance of them on the market.

Eggs are a fine source of protein and contain essential vitamins and minerals. But those are things to keep quietly in the back of your mind. Just serve a dish as tasty and delicious as Baked Cheese Eggs, and there'll be no need for urging on your part to get anyone to finish and ask for more.

Baked Cheese Eggs

6 eggs
2 tablespoons sharp cheese spread
2 tablespoons salad dressing
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pinch of pepper
1 cup corn flakes
1/2 teaspoon melted butter

Cook eggs in water just below boiling point about 20 minutes. Cover with cold water; remove shells. Cut eggs in halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and combine with cheese, salad dressing, green pepper, celery and seasonings. Refill egg whites, rounding up filling. Place in well-greased shallow baking dish. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs and mix with butter. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over eggs. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 15 minutes.

Yield: 4-6 servings (12 halves).

John McPhail Of Blairmore, Fatally Injured

Tragedy struck in the yard of West Canadian Collieries, Blairmore, at about 10 a.m. Monday when John McPhail, 69, was struck down by the yard engine tender and almost instantly killed.

Deceased first entered the employ of West Canadian in 1905 and was one of the oldest employees of the company. For many years he had been master mechanic of the tipples and in 1943 was made head boiler engineer.

According to eye witnesses Mr. McPhail started to cross the tracks nearby the tipples and appeared oblivious to all around him. The engine was backing down the rails towards the tipples pulling a string of empty cars. None of the engine crew saw him on the track. A fellow employee happened to notice the danger and shouted warning which went unheard by the old gentleman. The tender struck him and both tender and locomotive ran over his body. The injuries were so severe that death was practically instantaneous.

Surviving are Mrs. McPhail, three sons, Gordon, Jack and Harold, and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Derbyshire, of Calgary. The funeral was held on Wednesday, Blairmore Elks lodge, of which he was an active member, being in charge.

GREAT EXCITEMENT MONDAY NOON

Excitement reigned among the school children and a number of businessmen at 1 p.m. Monday when a fire started in the garage on the Root property on main street next door to the Holy store, and residence.

The fire brigade responded quickly as smoke started to sweep across second street. Children by the score milled around nearby the fire a number of them being swept by water from the hose as firefighters sought to extinguish the fire quickly.

According to George Evans who resides twelve feet across the alley from the garage he saw some youths come out of the garage shouting that "there's a big fire in there." He saw the garage starting to flame and ran to the fire station to sound the alarm. Mr. Evans believes that the youths had been playing with matches, started a fire and then found themselves unable to control it.

Veterans of War

Possibly the Crows' Nest Pass was more fortunate than other centres in re-establishing its young veterans. He was aware that locally the companies had not been able to re-establish every one to perfection but he had hopes of eventually correcting the situation. He had been elated at the co-operation given by the returned men in re-establishing themselves. It was more than had been expected and he was sincerely grateful to them and he wished them the best of luck.

At this point saucers of cigarettes were passed along and it was announced the cigarettes were the gift of Miss Anne Yuill who sent best wishes to the returned boys some of whom, no doubt, were former pupils of hers at Cameron school where she has held the fort for the past twenty-three years.

George Derbyshire tendered a vote of thanks to the ladies who had been going steady from 2 p.m. that day till very late at night securing food, preparing it, serving it and finally cleaning up when everyone else had gone home.

Entertainment committee chairman Jim Lowe asked that all mix and enjoy themselves. He announced the concert and dance in the community hall.

Returned vets., who were called upon to say a few words included Oliver Barrington, John Howarth, Pat. Emmerson, Lynn Parry, Thelma Vincent and an English bride, Mrs. Joe Panek, who expressed her thanks for the many kindnesses shown her by the citizens since her arrival in Coleman.

The following members of the armed forces were in attendance: A.C.F. J. Bakaj, Pte. O. Barrington, Seam. Tony Coccolini, Pte. N. Cytko, Pte. Ugo DeCecco, Seam. Joe DeLuca, Pte. Ray Destobell, Cpl. H. F. Eysackers, Cpl. R. F. Garrett, Pte. J. A. Howarth, LAC. Wm. Holyk, LAC. R. Jones, Seam. C. W. Martland, Pte. J. Nimcan, Pte. J. Panek, LAC. D. Plante, Cpl. G. R. D. Parry, Pte. Pete Smith, Pte. Joe Sikora, LAC. Wm. Shields, Pte. L. Vassac, LAC. Pat. Emmerson, LAC. Thelma Vincent.

The concert program artists included: Ukrainian duet dance, by M. Trenkew and E. Stelmachovich; tap dance, B. McCartney; Ukrainian folk dance, "Arkan," by Ukrainian boys; PT by boys and girls; Polish youth club, leader Miss W. Michalski; bag pipe, Miss Mary Kuchty; song, Miss Helen Wanat; two dances youth club.

Following the concert fifty artists were taken to the 100F hall where they were given supper, thus consuming practically all the food that had remained after the main banquet had been concluded.

THEATRE NOTES

"ABILENE TOWN," EXCITING TALE OF ROMANCE

The colorful pages of one of the most stirring and romantic phases of American history are brought to pulsating life as the story of "Abilene Town" unfolds on the screen at the Palace theatre Saturday. This dramatic film concerns the violent conflict between the cattle barons and the homesteaders who settled on the great plains of Kansas during the turbulent decade after the Civil War.

Playing co-starring roles are Ann Dvorak, recently returned from war work in Britain, and Randolph Scott. Ann is cast as Rita, the glamorous song and dance queen of the town's gayest tavern, and has never looked lovelier, or played better. The song-writing team of Goell and Spellman have provided her with three of the catchiest hit tunes of the season—"I Love It Out Here in the West," "All You Gotta Do is Snap Your Fingers" and "Everything I Give My Heart"—and Ann gives them all she's got. Which is plenty!

"OUT OF THIS WORLD" AT ORPHEUM SATURDAY

WEDDINGS

COLLISTER—RAMSAY

On Saturday, May 4, St. Joseph's church, Rozelle, New South Wales, Australia, was the scene of a pretty wedding when May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsay, of Coleman, Alberta, became the bride of Trevor Albert, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collier, of Rozelle.

Entering the church on the arm of Mr. O'Dell, a friend of the groom's family, the bride looked beautiful in a floor length gown of white chiffon and lace made up on Grecian lines. She wore a chapel veil which was held in place by a coronet of pink and white roses and carnations streamer fashion.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Collier, sister of the groom, who wore a floor length gown of white crepe, and Miss Doreen Reid, who chose a blue crepe. Their chapel veils were held in place with coronets of blue and pink roses and delphiniums and they carried bouquets of the same.

The groom was attended by his two brothers, Joe and Don. Collier.

During the signing of the register "Ave Marie" was sung.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the "Cairo" where places were set for fifty guests. A dance followed later in the evening.

The bridal couple motored to Burrigangang Valley to spend their honeymoon. For her travelling outfit the bride chose a brown gabardine suit with brown accessories. On their return from their honeymoon the happy young couple will take up residence at 355 Bronte Road, Bronte, N.S.W.

KEENER—ERICKSON

On June 1, St. Alban's church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson, was united in marriage with John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keener, of Milk River, Rev. Brown officiated.

A reception with twenty guests was held in the Empire hotel dining room where Mrs. J. Root received. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated the table, while Freda Sygatek, Mary Grita and Dorothy Hleuka served the luncheon.

The happy couple left at midnight for a short honeymoon to be spent at Lethbridge and Milk River. On their return they will reside in Coleman.

CIESLAK—DOBEK

Dean Harrington officiated.

The bride entering the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Eleanor Aschacher, was charmingly dressed in a white floor length gown of fine net with full skirt and silk brocade top fitted-in waist, long tight sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of net with a single row of pearls outlining it. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of deep red roses. Her only ornaments were a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the groom.

The altar was beautifully decorated with bouquets of snapdragons.

JUNE IS CENSUS MONTH IN WESTERN CANADA

EVERY FIVE YEARS the Dominion Government assembles facts about Western Canada — facts which, when they are sorted out, will answer many vitally important questions concerning population, agriculture, housing etc.

To get these facts the Dominion Bureau of Statistics goes to the people themselves. No one else can supply so accurately the information which will guide all governments — Dominion, Provincial and Municipal — in policy-making during the critical years ahead.

This year is Census year, and June is Census month. A new and very important feature will be collection of facts on housing in cities and towns of over 5,000 population.

This 1946 Census is of special interest because it will provide the first reliable picture of Post-War Canada. It is the Reconstruction Census.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO YOU, AND YOU CAN HELP—by answering all questions frankly and correctly when the Official Enumerator calls at your home. There is no reason to withhold information; the enumerator is sworn to secrecy and you can place absolute trust in him. Both he and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics will hold all information in strictest confidence; it can never be used against you by any tax-collecting or other agency or in any court of law.

It is compulsory by law to answer the questions, but, more important, it is good citizenship to reply . . . frankly and accurately.

The Only Remedy for Hunger is FOOD!

The most efficient way in which we can send increased bulk shipments of WHEAT, MEAT, CHEESE and EGGS to needy countries is through the Canadian government food Boards. These increased bulk shipments can only be made providing we reduce our own consumption. Here are five important ways by which we can make greater quantities of food available for export:

- (1) BUY AND USE LESS BREAD, FLOUR AND OTHER WHEAT PRODUCTS. MEAT, CHEESE AND EGGS. SUBSTITUTE VEGETABLES, FRUIT AND FISH WHERE POSSIBLE.
- (2) KEEP YOUR HOME STOCKS LOW — BUY ONLY ENOUGH FOR IMMEDIATE REQUIREMENTS.
- (3) AVOID ALL WASTE.
- (4) GROW A VICTORY GARDEN AGAIN THIS YEAR. PLANT MORE THIS TIME IF YOU CAN.
- (5) DONATE ANY MEAT COUPONS YOU CAN SPARE. ENQUIRE AT YOUR LOCAL RATION BOARD.

Share with the hungry!

"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yet, Jim, most of it springs from one cause... suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skulduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1813 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Brown Honored At Farewell Party

Presented With Purse; State Sorry to Leave Coleman Parish and Friends.

The Rev. W. E. and Mrs. Brown were given a farewell party by St. Alban's parishioners in the parish hall Monday evening. Some members also attended. When Mrs. Brown entered the hall she was given a corsage—a beautiful white gardenia—by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garner. The evening began with cards, followed by a dainty supper served by St. Alban's Ladies Guild. The young people then gave a musical program. Mr. W. L. Borrowes very ably filled the position of chairman. The program consisted of: song by Joan Johnston, piano solo by Lenore Dutil, song by Alan Kostelnik, violin solo by John Graham, song by Frances Dibble, violin solo by Frances Graham, piano solo by Donald Graham.

Presentation to Rector by Mr. F. H. Graham on behalf of St. Alban's of a purse of money as an appreciation for faithful service. Mr. Graham, in making the presentation, stated: "When I was first informed by Mr. Brown of his intentions to leave this parish I felt very sorry indeed, and I asked if he would reconsider the matter and remain with us for another year. At a Vestry meeting held in the early part of the year the members of the Vestry made an appeal to Mr. Brown to again reconsider his resignation, as also did the Bishop. However, his mind was made up and his plans for the future decided. I, as People's Warden, am expressing the sincere regrets of the entire parish in the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Brown at this time. He has ministered to us well. He has been faithful to his duties, and during the trying years of the war brought comfort and help to us all. His services have been a continued source of inspiration, although I am sure it must have been very discouraging at times when the attendance was not what it should have been, and yet the life of the church went on and Mr. Brown performed his tasks in a most able manner. My term of office as warden has run on throughout Mr. Brown's stay here, and I would like to say that it was a pleasure at all times to meet him in matters of the church and parish, and I appreciate the co-operation that he has given me. A number of improvements have been made about the church property during his stay here. A concrete retaining wall was built on the north and west side, of the parish hall; a concrete entrance leading to the church, and the enlargement of the Vestry, which makes it more accessible to the channel of the of the church from the parish hall. A new oak floor was put down in the living room and dining room of the rectory; redecorating was done in the rectory, while a double gate was installed on the east side fence. All of these go to show that he has been most active and interested in the welfare of our parish.

Mr. Brown has been supported in his parish work most ably by Mrs. Brown. Her work in the Sunday school with your child and mine; her faithful and efficient activities at the organ and with the choir are most appreciated, and I do want to thank her for her kind co-operation and help.

It has been a pleasure having Mr. and Mrs. Brown occupy our rectory which they have kept in such good order and repair. Their efforts and interest in the upkeep of the surrounding grounds deserve our gratitude.

I would like to take this opportunity, Mr. Brown, to thank you for your kind and liberal donations towards the Thanksgiving for Victory Fund, and also the Anglican Advance Appeal.

On behalf of the parishioners of St. Alban's church, Coleman, I take great pleasure in presenting to you this purse as a token of appreciation for all that you have done for us, and with our very best wishes for years of happiness and good health to you and Mrs. Brown, and continued success in God's Work."

The Rector expressed his most sincere thanks and appreciation for this gift and those responsible for a most enjoyable evening. It has been a real pleasure to work as rector of St. Alban's owing to the support and encouragement given by the congregation. May there be continued success.

Alec Cornett then gave Mrs.

Brown a beautiful picture of the Crows' Nest Mountain on behalf of St. Alban's choir, wishing her all the best for the future.

Mrs. Stephen Penney, president of St. Alban's Guild on their behalf presented to Mrs. Brown a Roger's silver plate with appreciation for her services and every good wish. Mrs. Brown expressed most sincere thanks for those gifts, saying what a pleasure it had been to work with the choir and guild and how reluctant she was to leave such good workers and true friends.

The chairman then called for singing of "Auld Lang Syne," three rousing cheers for the rector and his wife. A most enjoyable evening ended by the singing of the National Anthem.

Letter To The Editor

Editor of The Journal,

Dear Sir,

May I through the medium of your paper take this opportunity of saying "goodbye" to the good folks of Coleman whom I have known, and to thank them for their kindness, since I came to the town. This has made my stay most pleasant and a rather difficult one to leave.

A most conscientious mayor and councillors are working hard to make Coleman a town of which we may all feel proud. I have watched with interest the many improvements during the past two years. Citizens! do give them all the help and co-operation possible.

The different organizations are doing very worthy work. The Legion is to be congratulated on their Memorial Park. Do assist them in their objective for a fitting memorial to those who gave their all for us. I shall miss my many happy visits to the Legion.

Coleman is to also be congratulated on having such a clean and progressive paper as the Journal, ready at all times to boost all activities for the public good and to admonish when necessary. I wish to thank you and your staff for the great help given me in my work by publishing free church services and activities.

Personally and on Mrs. Brown's behalf thank you one and all and we wish you the best you would wish for yourselves.

Yours sincerely,
W. E. BROWN.

Must The Consumer Pay?

LABOR MANAGEMENT DISPUTES have reached alarming proportions in this continent during the past year. So far, the situation has been much more serious in the United States than in Canada, but American labor troubles have affected us here by cutting off the supplies of certain products and raising the prices of others. Strikes have taken place in a number of Canadian industries also, and there appears to be a general move on the part of labor to improve wages and working conditions at this time. Under the democratic system of government in which we believe, no one would deny the right of workers to strike for what they believe to be their rights, but it is an open question if there is a great need in many cases for drastic adjustment of labor management relations.

Trend Viewed With Alarm

The trend toward higher wages in industry cannot be viewed except with some alarm by wage earners and other workers in moderate income groups. They realize that increase in the cost of labor will inevitably cause a rise in prices which will pass from the manufacturer to the wholesaler and then to the retail merchant. In the end, the consumer will pay more for products so affected, and unless the general level of income is raised to meet these increases, considerable hardship will result for a large part of the population. If, on the other hand, incomes are stopped up to meet the rise in price levels, the dreaded spiral of inflation will have commenced and there will be little hope of stopping its ruinous course. During the war, Canada's system of price and wage control and her anti-inflation measures were looked upon as the best that had been worked out for any nation. With the unavoidable loosening of some wartime controls and the rise in labor management disputes, however, it is now questioned whether it will be possible to avoid a state of inflation much longer.

Very Real And Serious Menace

A serious view of the situation is being taken by consumers, and especially by those in moderate income groups. This includes many farmers who will be adversely affected by increased prices on manufactured goods. In Alberta recently, the matter was discussed at a meeting of representatives of farm organizations where it was made clear that the present threat of inflation is regarded as a real and serious menace. It is said that labor management difficulty is an unavoidable aftermath of war. It must not be forgotten that in Canada labor was solidly behind the war effort, and it should also be remembered that there may exist injustices in regard to wages and working conditions which warrant action on the part of labor organizations. That, however, is only one section of the population, and unless means are found to offset the effect of higher production costs on the prices of consumer goods, we will have either widespread dissatisfaction and hardship, or the disaster of inflation.

Washington Star Tells Story About Visitors To Mexican Embassy

A writer in the Winnipeg Tribune says he is torn between admiration for the speed and imperturbability of the Embassy attache, and sympathy for the frustration which arose in the minds of the callers in the following item from the Washington Star: A short, swarthy man appeared at the main door of the Mexican Embassy here when two Washingtonians called recently for some vacation information. "Sorry," he told them, "you will have to ring at the Embassy office the other side of the building." The two walked around the building and rang at the office door. The same short man answered, not a bit out of breath though he must have dashed madly through the Embassy to get to the other door in time. "Sorry," he told the callers, "the office is closed for the day."

Selective Immigration

Says It Is Important For Canada To Retain World Position

Fellows of the Royal Society of Canada were told that "selective immigration is imperative" for Canada to retain the world position she has come to occupy and to carry out her obligations under the United Nations Charter. The paper, presented by Prof. H. F. Angus, an economist of the University of British Columbia, stressed that "invitations should not carry offensive implications" and that "quotas should be applied only to doubtful classes."

Whooping Cough Is Cured By A Trip

In A Plane
LEICESTER, England.—Flying a child with whooping cough up to a height of 12,000 feet and then diving steeply towards the ground has proved successful in two cases. George Delbysch, Leicester pilot, did it first for the 18-month-old child of a friend. Now he has tried it successfully for his 11-year-old son. The child coughed as the plane gained height, but at 12,000 feet the coughing ceased. After a steep descent the boy appeared to be cured.

HEALTH STANDARDS

Need Uniform Basic Regulations Covering Contagious Diseases

The Dominion Council of Health, stressing the need for uniform basic regulations covering control of the communicable diseases throughout Canada, has requested the Dominion Government to prepare standards for regulations which might be applied to all provinces, the Health and Welfare Department announced at Ottawa.

The request was made following the council's 49th annual meeting at Ottawa at which discussion also centred on the lack of uniform provincial legislation to determine responsibility for payment for public assistance or institutional care. The Federal Department also was asked to consider a draft residence bill prepared by a committee of provincial health officials under the chairmanship of Dr. H. M. Cassidy of Toronto.

The Dominion Council of Health consists of provincial deputy health ministers, representatives of French and English-speaking women and of labor. Dr. G. B. Chisholm, Dominion Deputy Health Minister, is chairman. Sir Wilson Jameson, chief medical officer of the British Health Ministry, Dr. J. B. Grant, of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Dr. W. A. McIntosh, of Toronto, Canadian representative of the Rockefeller Foundation's International Health Division, also attended the meeting.

Appreciation of the "notable contribution" made to public health in Canada by the late Dr. J. J. Heagerty, of Ottawa, was recorded at the meeting.

Empire Building

Britain Without The Empire Might Have Lost The War

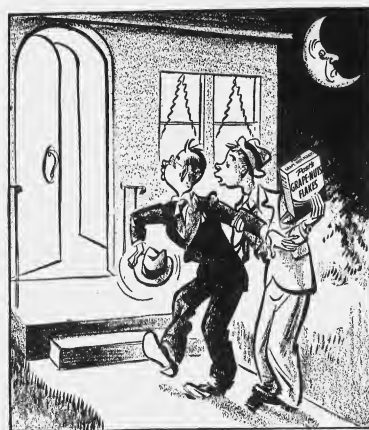

LONDON.—Recalling the dissolution of Germany's European Empire one year ago, the Sunday Express said in an editorial: "Today we watch with perturbation and amazement a movement which, if not halted, may result in swift dissolution of our own Empire."

The editorial said that Britain without the Empire could not have emerged victorious from the war. "Our strength and the power of our voice in world affairs lies in the fact that we are the steel core of a world-wide Empire and speak of it as its motherland," the Express said. It added that Britain had taken two "terrifying gambles" by withdrawing her forces from Egypt and by producing a plan to give India complete independence.

"Both decisions have been taken by the socialist party which in past years, has leaned more to international sentimentalism than to Empire building."

The News of the World said the recent statement of the cabinet mission to India on the future of that country "marks the end of a long and by no means inglorious chapter in the almost incredible story of the British Empire." The newspaper added: "It is now up to the political leaders of India to display equal statesmanship and an equal sense of responsibility."

The Sunday Times said: "Grave risks are being run and the stakes are the lives of millions of people who depend on peace and good government in India."

"Wait Oscar — I gotta better idea. Throw in this package of crisp, crunchy Grape-Nuts Flakes — 'n' if THAT comes out you better leave town!"

"Now you're talkin', Joe! The little woman might toss my hat out again but she'll never part with a package of malty-rich, nut-sweet Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes. And while she's fondly caressing 'em, I'll sneak upstairs to bed."
"Sure enough these Grape-Nuts Flakes are wonderful smile bait. And they stick-to-your ribs, too — with carbohydrates for energy; protein for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; and other food essentials."

SMILE AWHILE

Touret: Any big men born around here?

Native: Nope. Not very progressive 'round here; best we kin do is babies. Different in the city, I suppose.

Johny: "I fell in a mud puddle."

Mother: "What, with your new pants on?"

Johnny: "Yes, I fell so fast I didn't have time to take them off."

"What would you do if you married a rich woman?"

"Absolutely nothing."

"Don't you find writing a thankless job?"

"Write the contrary, everything I write is returned to me with thanks."

George: "But I thought you had forgiven me for that, and promised to forget it."

Ethel: "Yes—but I didn't promise to let you forget I had forgiven it!"

Tourist (in village store): "Waddy got in the shape of automobile tires?"

Clerk: "Funeral wreaths, life preservers, invalid cushions and doughnuts."

Teacher (in junior high school): "Paraphrase the sentence: 'He was in a cell on the top floor.'"

"You cannot have your puppy in the house," said the harassed housewife. "He will whimper at night."

"But we can turn on the radio," replied the lot, "then nobody will notice the other noise."

The doctor's young son was showing a playmate around his father's office. The lad spied a mounted skeleton and asked where it came from.

"He's had it a long time. I think it's his first patient."

Mrs. Higgs and her neighbor met in the fish queue.

"What's your old man looking so fed-up about, Mrs. Higgs?" asked her neighbor.

"Well you see, he hasn't got a job yet, and he feels it very much that he can't go out on strike like other men."

Pat: Lend me a shovel to get my friend out of the bog.

Farmer: How far has he sunk down?

Pat: Up to his ankles.

Farmer: Can't he get out himself?

Pat: Ah, but he fell in head first.

EAT FOOD RAW

Raw foods contain the maximum in nutrients and therefore small quantities of raw foods satisfy the appetite more quickly than do cooked foods. This is the finding of nutrition experts, and authorities at headquarters of the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, recommend that raw food should be included on the menu every day.

The solid material remaining of the soy bean after oil is pressed out is used in manufacture of many auto parts.

Just Scraping Noise

Is How Famous Violinist's Music Sounds To His Children

Yehudi Menuhin's playing may be to most people the world's greatest violin music, but to five-year-old Krov and six-year-old Zamira—his son and daughter—it is "just an old scraping noise." It is reported. "They youngsters solemnly told a reporter that 'Mummy' at her piano plays much better. Both parents say it is wrong to teach music to an unwilling child. 'It spoils them for life,' said Mrs. Menuhin. "They enjoy music more if it is not forced on them early in life," said the father.

GOVERNMENT ENUMERATORS TO MAKE AN ACCURATE SURVEY OF THREE PRAIRIE PROVINCES

OTTAWA.—Four thousand government enumerators have started a month-long campaign to compile "a most complete and accurate survey" of the population and economic conditions of Canada's three prairie provinces.

The quinquennial census is going to mean the people of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be asked questions about such things as whether their farm is in debt, how many eggs their hens lay, whether they have a bathtub, a basement, a garage.

Under the general direction of Herbert Marshall, head of Canada's bureau of statistics, it will probe particularly housing, employment, population and agriculture conditions.

It will indicate the extent of the wartime shift of population into the industrial area of Canada. It will show the unemployment situation, the status of wage-earners. School boards will obtain data on school and pre-school populations. Farmers will get information on farm population, values, acreage, crops, livestock. Housing officials will know the extent of overcrowding.

The Statistics act of 1918 provides that "a census of population and agriculture (of the three provinces) shall be taken . . . on a date in the month of June in the year 1926 . . . and every 10th year thereafter."

The bureau of statistics made clear that "answers to all questions can be given with confidence since every enumerator is sworn to secrecy" about the replies.

R.C.M.P. officers will cover the cutting areas and the Indian population will be questioned by the Indian affairs branch of the mines and resources department.

CANADIAN JOB

Australian Air Gunner Wants Berth With The R.C.A.F.

SEATTLE.—Ft. Sgt. Reginald P. Howard, Australian air gunner whose recovery from war wounds was one of the medical miracles of the war, has come to Canada to enlist in the R.C.A.F.

Howard flew back to his base near Tobruk in North Africa Sept. 17, 1942, after a flight against Italian ships, holding a portion of his brain in place with one hand and stopping the flow of blood from other wounds with the other.

He survived, after nearly a year of hospitalization, was discharged from the air force in 1943 and went to sea on a troop ship to see more action. He said he would seek an instructor's berth with the R.C.A.F.

DATE ANNOUNCED

Deadline For Demobilization Of R.C.A.F. Set At September 30

OTTAWA.—Air Minister Gibson announced that Sept. 30 had been set as the deadline for R.C.A.F. demobilization.

A release plan, for those serving in Canada, sets forth the diminishing number of release points necessary for discharge in each month until the deadline. Thus, each serviceman is told the month in which he will qualify for release and may make his plans accordingly.

Personnel overseas, unless interim force volunteers or regular force desirous of continued service, are released upon return to Canada.

Present strength of the overseas force is approximately 5,000.

RESERVE TRAINING

Will Be Given By R.C.A.F. In Various Flying Clubs

OTTAWA.—Reserve training will be carried on by the R.C.A.F. in the future and the elementary training will be allocated to flying clubs throughout the country. Air Minister Colin Gibson has informed the house. Assistance will be provided the flying club in the form of the loan of equipment, and airframe facilities together with fees for such training as is decided upon.

BOMB LOCATED

Has Puzzled Disposal Company In London For Seven Months

LONDON.—An unexploded bomb at Croydon, south London, the location of which has been puzzling London's bomb disposal company for seven months, discovered 12 feet from a shaft which had been sunk only in the search. The size of the bomb is unknown and another shaft will be sunk above the point of location.

SOUVENIR TOO LARGE

BRAZIL, Ind. The Frazz American Legion post should have included the dimensions of its lawn when it asked the War Department for a souvenir weapon. The souvenir arrived—an anti-aircraft gun, 22 feet long and weighing 5,000 pounds. The legion's lawn isn't that big. Post officials have asked the city park board to mount it in a park.

MILITARY ASPECTS OF THE RECENT OPERATION MUSKOX IS CAUSE OF SPECULATION

OTTAWA.—Deliberate emphasis of civilian over military aspects of the recent Operation Muskox has been given by defence officials here but there has been no lack of confirmation for the Arctic expedition's chief finding—that large-scale invading forces could deploy through the snowy tundra of that vast undefended area.

One authority asked to comment specifically on the military results of the 3,300-mile trek from Churchill, Man., through the Arctic Circle to Edmonton, frankly said he thought the exercise had been "unhindered by too much publicity."

He declared the military aspect of the expedition had been given almost a sinister twist while the interest of American observers by "irresponsible" speculation had made it appear that the United States was going to move in to assume a defensive role that was the sovereign responsibility of Canada.

He referred to criticism of the intent of the exercises which has appeared in the Russian press and thought it might have resulted from over-emphasis of American and British participation.

In the first place, he said, Canada would not entertain criticism from any quarter for military investigations carried out within her own borders and in the second place Russian military attaches had an equal opportunity with British and United States officials to apply for a seat in one of the snowmobiles. In fact, Russian military men had gone to Churchill to study the expedition's program and watch its start.

There have been preliminary reports on the results of Muskox expedition, but the final report embodying various phases of the exercise will not be released until August. This report, which may be disclosed in part through a press release, will touch on various subjects ranging from discipline to mechanical developments.

No further exercises, an official said, were planned for "some little time."

Already, he said, the experts had reported on the mechanical troubles which had developed en route and suggestions had been blue-printed which would remove these problems in army vehicles used in subsequent Arctic manoeuvres. Suggestions for winter clothing improvements have also been embodied in practical plans already carried out.

Laure Corporal Lawrence Believed Oldest Man In Canadian Army

OTTAWA.—The retirement of a soldier believed to be the oldest man in the Canadian army has been announced.

He is 71-year-old Laure Corporal Bernard Lawrence of Ottawa. Lawrence was a member of the veterans' guard attached to the adjutant general's office in Ottawa during the Second World War. He served abroad in the Boer War and the First World War.

MYSTERY STEAMSHIP

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—The Strathcona "mystery" steamship found abandoned by the Canadian navy during wartime and towed here in a damaged state, has taken on a crew preparatory to sailing for Aberdeen, Scotland. No details have been disclosed of the circumstances in which the steamship was abandoned.

OTTAWA.—Repercussions on the collapse of the Dominion-provincial conference were heard in the house when Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, described handicaps hampering his department in meeting drought and marshland difficulties across Canada, as a result of the failure of the Dominion and provinces to get together.

Two acts had been drafted, one for the four western provinces, and the other covering the five eastern provinces, to provide assistance to agriculture after the manner of the P.F.R.A. which operates in the Paliser triangle on the prairies. The acts would have been introduced had the conference reached an agreement, the minister said.

Administrators of the western rehabilitation act would have been cut in Regina; the eastern act would have been administered from Ottawa.

Drought and flood problems existed right across the country. One required irrigation and the other dyking.

To meet these problems we believe there ought to be agreement in the first place on certain sources of revenue being open to the Dominion government which are now tapped by the provincial governments, in order that we might have the means to take action. Then we ought to have a division of authority to make it possible for us to spend the money in these areas," said Mr. Gardiner.

He said the position the federal government took was that such problems should be submitted to the Dominion-provincial conference and a decision reached.

The minister was replying to questions raised by P. C. Black, (P.C., Cumberland, N.S.). The member from Nova Scotia appealed to the government to take immediate action to repair dykes in his province, and reclaim for agricultural production marshlands now flooded.

The problem was one which fell within the jurisdiction of the provincial government under the B.N.A. act, Mr. Gardiner explained.

"Here is a job that ought to be done, and it requires a great amount of money which can only be provided by the federal government. That being the case, we ought to do something about our constitution."

Discussing the P.F.R.A.'s activities with regard to dygouts, Mr. Gardiner told the house that some 22,000 had been dug. Between 3,000 and 4,000 were being dug a year, and there were about 15,000 applications for dygouts in advance of the P.F.R.A.'s work. He said it would take five years to overtake present applications.

Changes To Be Made In Policy On Immigration

OTTAWA.—Immigration doors to the Dominion were opened a little wider when Hon. J. A. Glen, minister of mines and resources, informed the house of changes in Canada's immigration policy.

The following will now be on the Canadian immigration list and admissible to the Dominion:

The father or mother; unmarried son or daughter, 18 years or over; the unmarried brother or sister; the orphan nephew or niece under 16 years, of any person legally admitted to and resident in Canada who is in a position to receive and care for such relative.

Relaxing of Canada's strict immigration restrictions will meet in some measure the pressing demands being made on behalf of refugees or displaced persons having relatives in Canada anxious and able to provide them with homes.

The minister stressed that the action was only intended as a short term measure and provided only for the admission to Canada of approved persons who could be maintained until established and provided with housing by relatives.

OTTAWA.—Action will be taken by the government to have men "of the highest type" brought to Canada to replace the prisoners of war as workers in the sugar beet fields of Manitoba, Ontario and Alberta, according to a statement made in the house by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture.

The minister did not disclose other than to say: "I hope when the announcement is made as to who these men are, where they are coming from, and how they are getting here; everyone will be ready to say that they are just as good as the prisoners of war, and will make much better permanent settlers in Canada."

Alaska and Russia are separated by only 86 miles of open sea.
